Snapshot: Adi Finechem Ltd.

Incorporated in 1985, Adi Finechem Limited (AFL) formerly known as H.K.Finechem Limited has been a pioneer in the business of manufacturing of speciality fine chemicals viz. Oleochemical and Intermediate Nutraceuticals. The Company has a unique and niche manufacturing process by using by-products or waste products, namely Acid Oil and Deodorizer Distillates, generated during processing of soft vegetable oils of Soya, Sunflower, Corn and Cotton (SSCC) and manufacturing value added high grade of products viz. Linoleic, Distilled, Dimer and Monomer Fatty Acids and also Nutraceutical products like Natural Tocopherol concentrate, whereas globally these products are mainly made using virgin vegetable oils or tall oils. The company has an unparalleled ability in being able to use cost effective inputs which come without stringent specifications and yet be able to produce products that must meet stringent quality criteria.

AFL's fatty acid production finds application in growth industries like Paints, Inks, Soaps, Amines, Adhesives Etc. and its Nutraceutical product, Mixed Natural Tocopherol concentrate, is the only source of Natural Vitamin E and finds usage in Food, Animal Feed, personal care products, supplements, vitamins, etc.

Some of AFL's main clients for its oleochemical products are companies like Asian Paints, Micro Inks, Arkema, etc. and for its nutraceutical products are global Multinational Corporations like BASF (US), ADM (US), TAMA (Japan), RIKEN (Japan).

Management Discussion and Analysis

GLOBAL ECONOMY OVERVIEW

The financial year 2013-14 was an encouraging year with global activity improving during the second half of 2013 and is expected to improve further in 2014–15 according to the International Monetary Fund (IMF) World Economic Outlook Report dated April 2014, with much of the impetus coming from advanced economies. Emerging market economies have had a less encouraging growth rate due to poor external financial environment, although they continue to contribute more than two-thirds of the global growth.

According to the IMF, with supportive monetary conditions and a smaller drag from fiscal consolidation, annual growth is projected to rise above trend in the United States and to be close to trend in the core euro area economies. In the stressed euro area economies, however, growth is projected to remain weak and fragile as high debt and financial fragmentation hold back domestic demand. Growth in emerging market economies is projected to pick up modestly. These economies are adjusting to a more difficult external financial environment in which international investors are more sensitive to policy weakness. As a result, financial conditions in emerging market economies have tightened further, although their output growth is expected to be lifted by stronger exports to advanced economies.

INDIAN ECONOMY OVERVIEW

The financial year gone by, 2013-14 in India, was marred by continued low GDP growth, declining industrial output, decline in investments, higher inflation, lower quality of bank assets, high current account deficit, which has been brought down drastically through affirmative policy action, and depreciation in the domestic exchange rate.

The weakness in the Indian economy persisted in FY14 with GDP growth as per the advance estimates showing a growth of 4.86%, marginally higher than the 4.5% of FY13. The country has been witness to a sharp drop in its economic growth from an average 8.2% during FY04 - FY12 to sub 5% in FY13 and FY14.

According to the IMF, India's growth is expected to recover from 4.4% in 2013 to 5.4% in 2014, supported by slightly stronger global growth, improving export competitiveness, and implementation of recently approved investment projects. A pickup in exports in recent months and measures to curb gold imports has contributed to lowering the current account deficit. Policy measures to bolster capital flows have further helped reduce external vulnerabilities. Overall growth is expected to firm up on policies supporting investment and a confidence boost from recent policy actions.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

OLEOCHEMICALS

Oleochemicals are chemicals derived from Plant and Animal Fats. They are analogous to petrochemicals derived from petroleum. The formation of basic oleochemical substances like Fatty Acids, Fatty Acid Methyl Esters (FAME), Fatty Alcohols, Fatty Amines and Glycerol are by various chemical and enzymatic reactions. First used in the fabrication of soaps, oleochemistry is now part of our daily lives where it is found in a wide variety of sectors: personal care, food, cosmetics, pharmaceutical, lubricants, textiles, paper, industrials, etc.

Oleochemical Demand (MT)

OLEOCHEMICAL INDUSTRY

Increasing demand for biodegradable and sustainable products, coupled with recent changes in regulations, are increasing the importance of oleochemicals in various segments of the chemicals industry, notably polymers, lubricants and biosurfactants, all of which offer significant opportunities for companies in the long run.

The global Oleochemicals market was estimated at 13.5 million tonnes in the 2013 financial year and it is expected to grow at 6% per year over the next five years to reach 18 million tonnes.

Asia-Pacific accounts for 68% or around two-thirds of the oleochemicals market and this is expected to grow at 8% per year over the next five years. Surfactants, home care and personal care are the largest end use segments

Oleochemicals offer to serve the core businesses of polymers, surfactants, etc. but also significantly lower their portfolio risk and their carbon footprint. Petroleum-based lubricants have dominated the industry for decades. However, these do not readily degrade and therefore pose an environmental hazard. Once used, their disposal becomes a challenge, the cost of properly disposing of them is high and improper disposal can create several health and environmental hazards.

Paint Industry is one of the biggest consumers of Oleochemicals. The Indian Paint Association (IPA) expects the paint industry to double to up to Rs 50,000 crore in the next three years which will be mainly driven by rising urbanisation and revival of the economy

The global industry of basic oleochemicals is changing at a dramatic phase. While in Europe, USA and Japan, the production of fatty acids and alcohols remain constant or is seen decreasing, ASEAN countries with their strong raw material base is expanding with world scale plants and increasing rapidly their share in the worlds markets.

Major ASEAN oleochemical, producers (MT p.a):

Malaysia	18,06,000
China	11,80,000
Indonesia	7,16,000
Phillipines	1,03,000
India	1,00,000
Thailand	4500

India ranks 5th amongst ASEAN countries in oleochemical manufacturing. It can be expected that ASEAN countries will gradually direct their future growth to the development of derivatives of fatty acids ,fatty alcohols, methyl esters, and Glycerine.

(Source - Transparency Market Research, Tata Strategic Management Group Report on oleochemicals)

India is one of the largest consumers of soya and sunflower edible oils. Keeping this in mind, your company has strategically positioned itself in a very niche segment for manufacturing of oleochemicals viz. linoelic acid, dimer acid, palmitic acid, and has become a leading producer of Fatty Acids from natural oils and fats derived from renewable raw materials such as Soya, Sun Flower, Corn and Cotton.

Your company is the sole manufacture of Dimer Fatty Acid in India as well. AFL has over the years developed and mastered the process of manufacturing its entire product range from waste/by-product streams of natural vegetable oils by utilizing state of the art equipments of acceptable local and international quality.

NUTRACEUTICAL INDUSTRY

Nutraceutical, a portmanteau of the words “nutrition” and “pharmaceutical”. The term is applied to products that range from isolated nutrients, dietary supplements and herbal products, specific diets and processed foods such as cereals, soups, and beverages.

During the processing and refining of crude vegetable oils, the oil is heated to more than 240 degrees Celsius and sprayed into the aerator where dissolved air and moisture are removed with the aid of a vacuum, this process creates a waste product called Deodorizer Distillate to be formed. AFL primarily produces two types of natural chemicals from Deodorizer Distillate i.e. Natural Mixed Tocopherol Concentrate and Natural Concentrated Sterols.

The natural Tocopherol (Vitamin E) market has been characterized by a significant imbalance in demand and supply due to a spike in prices for the product. One of the key factors lying behind the price hikes is the shortage of the primary feedstock (deodorized Distillates). Some companies operating in the natural vitamin E market make efforts to find alternative production methods in order to narrow the supply-demand gap, while others are exploring alternate means of natural vitamin E extraction. Natural Tocopherol finds usage in food, dietary supplements, pharmaceuticals, cosmetics, etc.

The global volume of natural source Vitamin E consumption is expected to grow from 11,000 Tonnes in 2013 to about 18,000 Tonnes by 2020, posting a CAGR of 7.3% through 2020. In value terms, the world demand for the product is forecast to grow from around USD 612 million in 2013 to over USD 1 billion by end-2019.

Your company’s experience in processing by-products of vegetable oils, paved the way for extracting natural tocopherol from the by-product Deodorizer Distillate. Considering the rising demand for this product globally, your company has tied up with large Multinational companies outside of India as their clientele for continuously supplying this product to them.

FINANCIAL AND OPERATIONAL PERFORMANCE

During the Financial year ending 2013-14, AFL's Total Income increased by 23% to INR 1,524mn. Increase in sales and margins were primarily attributed to better utilisation of plant and improved product mix.

STRENGTHS AND OPPORTUNITIES

Your company uses waste or by-products of vegetable oil processing for its raw materials, like fatty acid oils and Deodorizer Distillate, which gives it a distinctive price advantage vis-à-vis its peers, who usually manufacture these products by processing crude oils. Your company has gained good experience for the past 10 years in sourcing the raw materials for their requirement from all the large edible oil manufacturing plants across the country. Your company has a long lasting relationship with all of its raw material suppliers as well as its clientele. AFL has opportunistically positioned itself to manufacture niche products where there is no direct competition and hence it is the sole manufacturer in India for majority of its products, it can easily pass on any increase in raw material prices to its customers.

Your company has established good degree of flexibility in its manufacturing process whereby the company can alter the output mix based on the market demand and profitability.

The technical specifications of raw materials procured from different vegetable oil refineries do vary based on process parameters followed by each one of them and the kind of crude vegetable oil (which is a natural agricultural commodity) used by them. Also, being by-products for these vegetable oil refineries our raw materials which do not get the necessary attention in terms of managing consistent quality and clear separation of separate streams of different oils. Your company has developed an expertise to accept such diverse input and yet produce products that must meet very stringent specification.

With continued global focus on Natural and value added products, your company is in a good position for future growth. Your company has a well-entrenched customer relationship in high growth industries like Paint, Inks, FMCG, Chemicals, etc. Your company has further opportunities to explore by-products of other vegetable oils as its raw material feedstock, as well as by increasing and diversifying its range of product portfolio by manufacturing other value added oleochemicals and nutraceuticals.

Additionally, with the current upgradation and expansion activities at the company's existing facilities, further economies of scale and improvement in efficiencies are also a strong possibility.

THREATS AND CHALLENGES

The biggest challenge in the oleochemical is the continuous availability of feedstock. Historically, about 12-14% of the world's vegetable oil production has been used for oleochemical production. The emerging applications discussed above would require an additional 8 million tonnes per year by 2020; although the projected increase in vegetable oil production from 150 million tonnes in 2012 to 185 million by 2020 should meet this need.

Furthermore, scenarios of draught in India and globally can create short-term issues in sourcing of the raw material feedstock as well as in the margin profile of AFL's products. Considering that your company exports close to one-third of its revenue, the risk of currency depreciation and currency volatility can also not be undermined.

HUMAN RESOURCES

At Adi Finechem Ltd., we believe that people are the most valuable assets of the Company as they contribute substantially to the achievement of business objectives. Our Human Resource philosophy has been designed to attract and retain best talent by creating a working environment that keeps employees engaged and motivated and encourages innovation. The Industrial Relations between the Management and the human resources of the Company have remained cordial. The average number of persons employed by the Company during the year was 151.

OUTLOOK

The outlook appears to be promising as the Company has now become cost competitive with its continued focus on (a) process optimization, (b) energy saving and (c) ideal product mix. Over a period, Company has acquired skills which are required in procuring raw materials and selling premium products in domestic market. The manufacturing process of the company provides a natural entry barrier for competition as the technical specifications of raw materials vary as they are procured from different vegetable oil refineries but the customer requires stringent specification in the final product.

Over a period, Your company has acquired skills which are required in procuring raw materials and selling premium products in domestic market. The technical specifications of raw materials procured from different vegetable oil refineries will vary based on process parameters followed by each one of them and the kind of crude vegetable oil (which is a natural agricultural commodity) used by them. At the same time, our raw materials are by-products of such vegetable oil refineries and so it gets relatively less importance at their end as far as quality and keeping separate streams of different oils are concerned.

Thus by its very nature, this business is quite demanding. The Company does not foresee entry of any one else in this line in the near future.

INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEMS AND THEIR ADEQUACY

There are adequate Internal Control Systems for financial reporting and time bound compliance of applicable laws and regulations. An independent firm of Chartered Accountants is carrying out internal audit of the books of accounts of the Company on a quarterly basis. The Audit Committee also reviews from time to time, adequacy and effectiveness of these internal control systems.

TRANSPARENCY IN SHARING INFORMATION

Transparency refers to sharing information and acting in an open manner. Processes and information are directly accessible to those concerned with them, and enough information is provided to understand and monitor them. 1.11 Leases:

Lease Transactions entered into on or after April 1, 2001:

- i) Assets acquired under lease where the Company has substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership are classified as finance leases. Such assets are capitalized at the inception of the Lease at the lower of the fair value or the present value of minimum lease payments and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost, so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each period.
- ii) Assets acquired on leases where a significant portion of the risks and rewards incidental to ownership is retained by the lessor are classified as operating Lease. Lease rental are charged to the Profit and Loss Account on accrual basis.

1.12 Taxes on Income:

Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the provisions of Income-tax Act, 1961.

Deferred tax is recognized, on timing differences, being the difference between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax assets in respect of unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses are recognised if there is a virtual certainty that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to realise such losses.

1.13 Borrowing Costs:

Borrowing costs that are attributable to the acquisition or construction of qualifying assets are capitalized as part of the cost of such assets. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for intended use. All other borrowing costs are charged to revenue.

1.14 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets:

Provisions involving substantial degree of estimation in measurement are recognized when there is a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that there will be an outflow of resources. Contingent liabilities are not recognized but are disclosed in the notes. Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed in the financial statements.

1.15 Impairment:

The carrying amount of fixed assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date if there is any indication of impairment based on internal / external factors. An Impairment Loss is recognized wherever the carrying amount of the fixed assets exceeds the recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the greater of the asset's net selling price and value in use. In assessing the value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value at the weighted average cost of capital.

1.16 Earnings per Share:

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net profit for the year attributable to equity share holders by the weighted average number of equity shares during the year. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year and for all the years presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without corresponding change in resources.

1.17 Proposed Dividend:

Dividend proposed by the Board of Directors is provided for in the books of account, pending approval of share holders at the Annual General Meeting.
